

DO GOOD. ONE NAPKIN AT A TIME

BioPak napkins are the most environmentally friendly option - they are made with FSC® certified pulp and are certified carbon neutral.

Napkins come in several sizes, each size tailored to a specific use. A beverage napkin, used when serving drinks and hors d'oeuvres, like most cloth napkins, is square, about thirteen centimeters to each side. A luncheon napkin is a couple of inches larger, and a dinner napkin larger still. The theory, evidently, is that the more food and drink that is served, the more potential there is for spillage, so the bigger the napkin must be to catch it.

These napkins are carbon neutral and are made from FSC® certified pulp.
